

Civil War: America in Strife

During the Civil War, almost four million American men, North and South, joined their armies. Around 750,000 died in the strife, in battle, from wounds and from illness. Advances in technology and communication brought the war home to families in new ways. Experience the days of the Civil War with images and music.

When:

Where:

More info:

Visit Anne's website at anneoc.com